

Michael Lunts Goes
'Christmas Crackers'

Sunday December 4th 7.30pm

Don't take your Christmas preparations too seriously. Why not take a little time out from the shopping and Christmas card lists to enjoy this light-hearted look at the annual shenanigans?

Michael delves into the archives for some classic musical and comic material from the heyday of satire, all of it given a seasonal twist to add a much needed smile to the pressures of Christmas.

Along-side songs of such masters of the comedy song such as Tom Lehrer, Jake Thackray, Paddy Roberts and Noel Coward, there are seasonal offerings from Ogden Nash, John Betjeman and other great wits.

Michael also serves up a few songs of his own and pulls one or two other surprises from his musical crackers!
